J. S. Miller

SUPERINTENDENT

“The true purpose of education is to cherish and unfold the seed of immortality already sown within us; to develop, to their fullest extent, the capacities of every kind with which the God who made us has endowed us.”

—Jameson

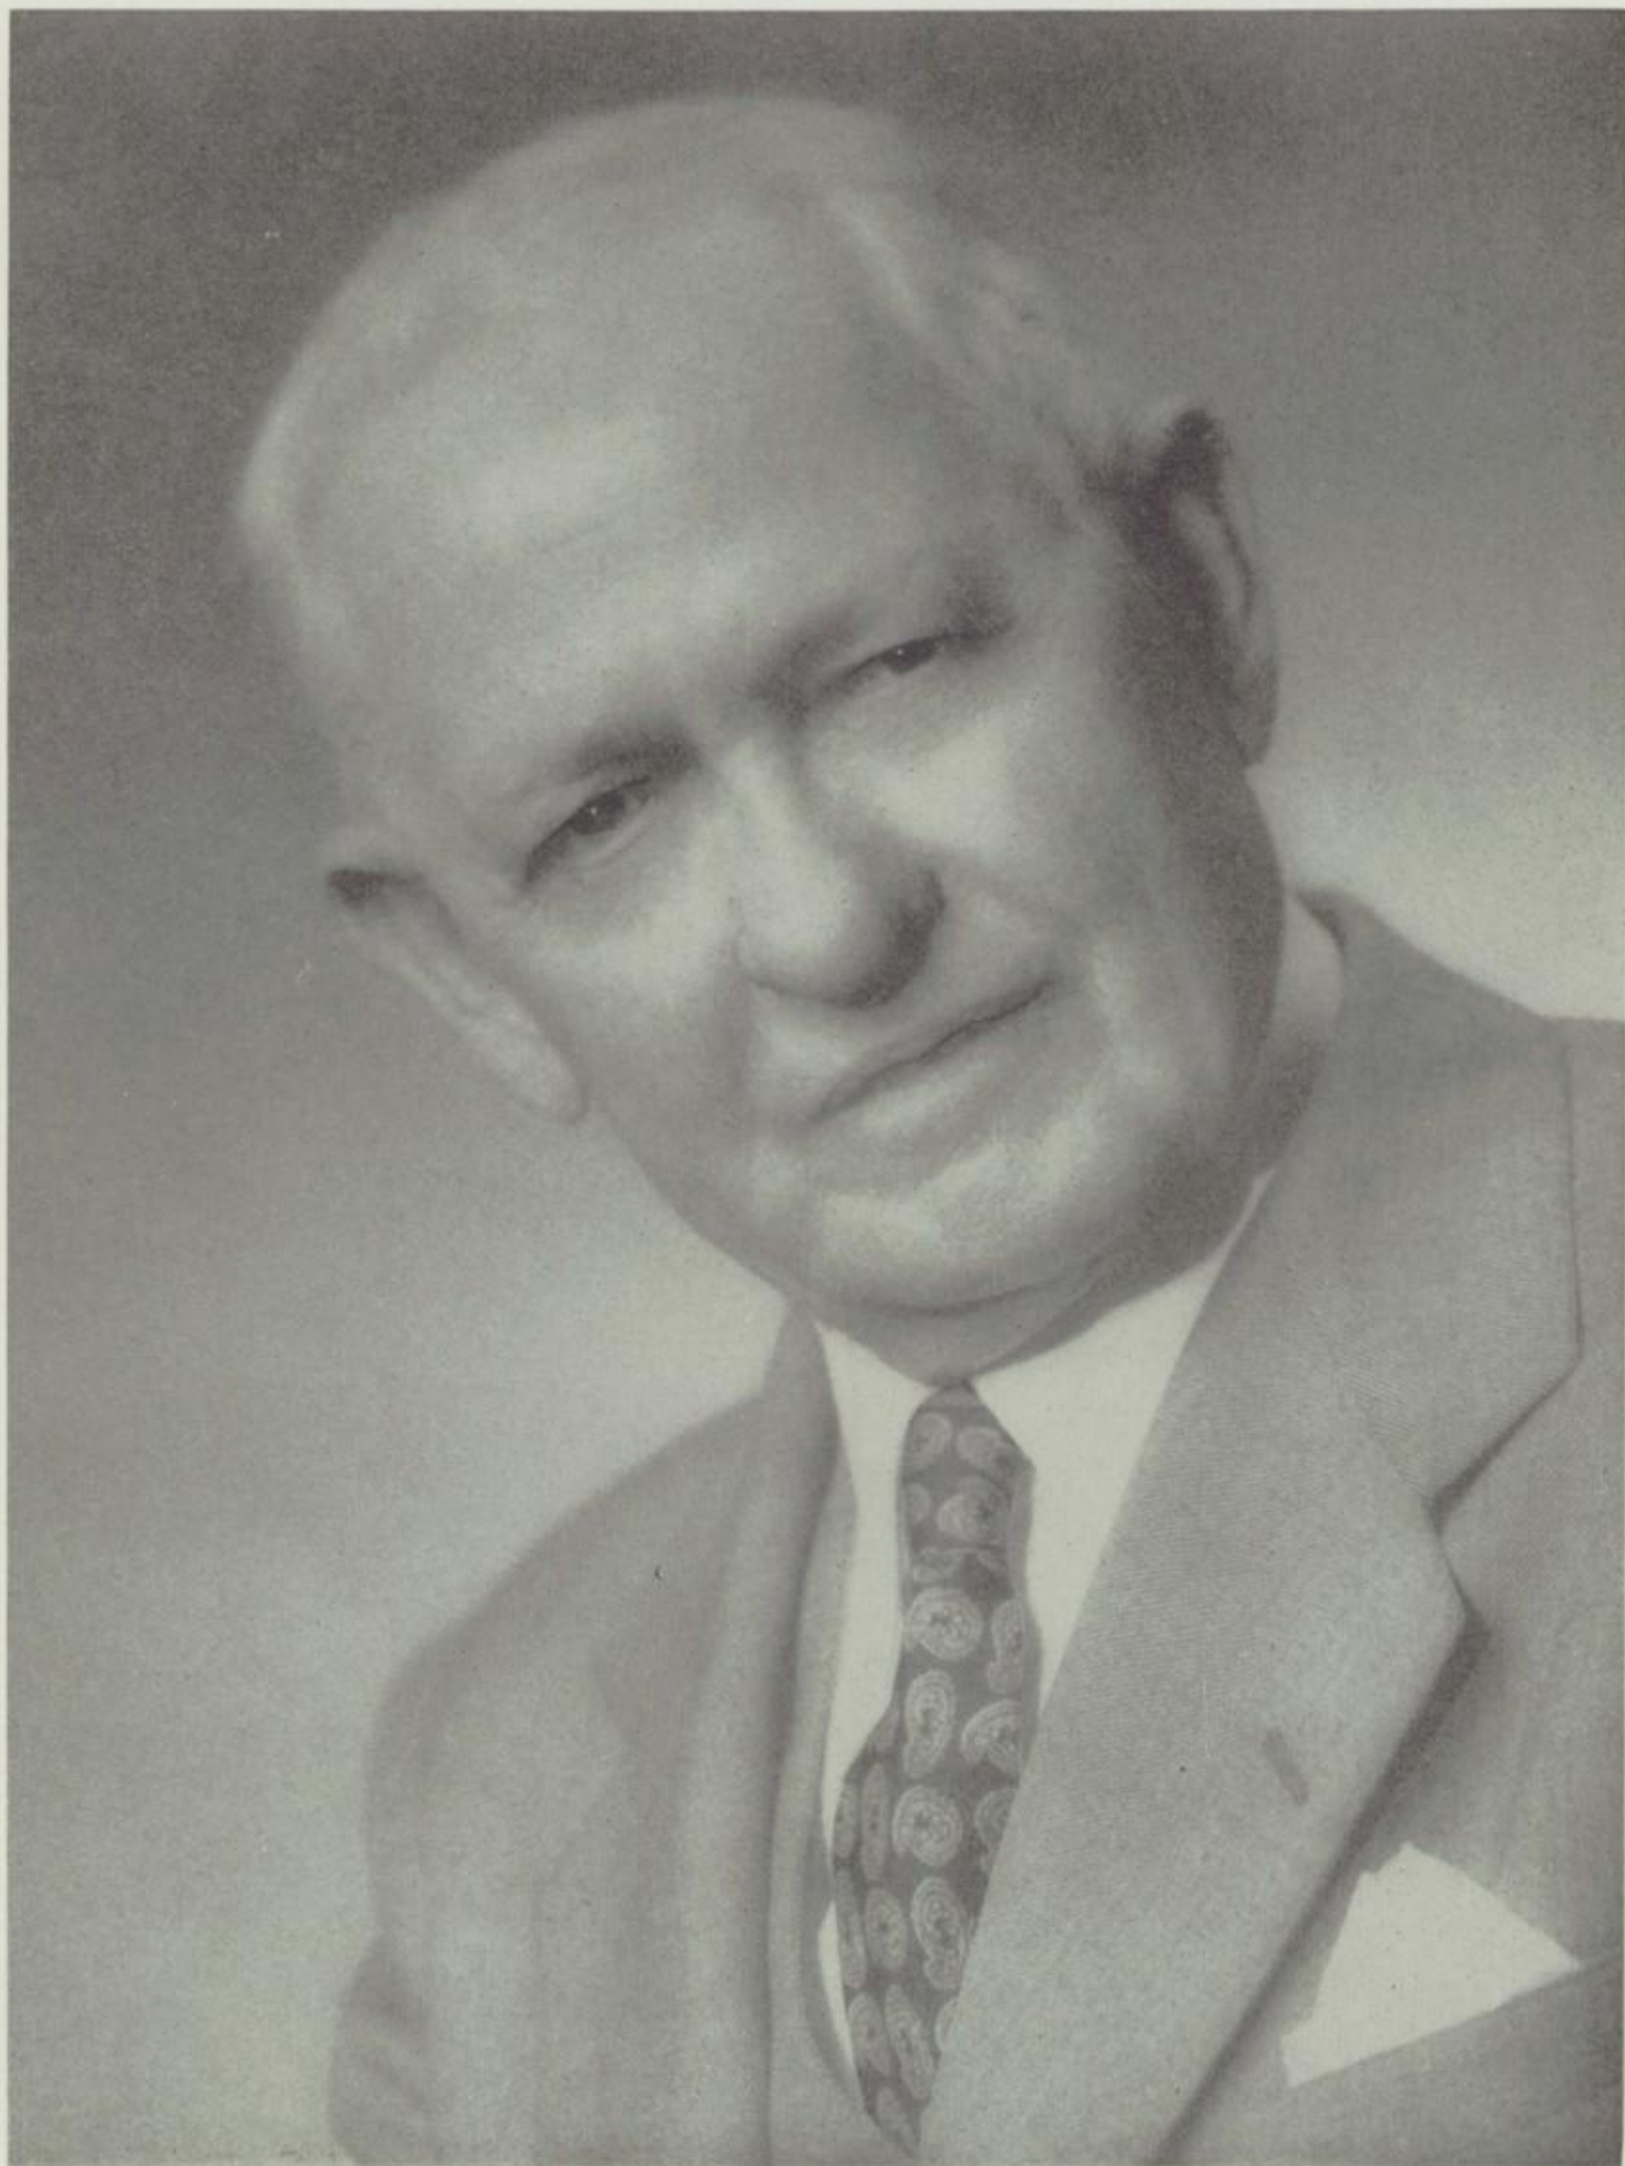

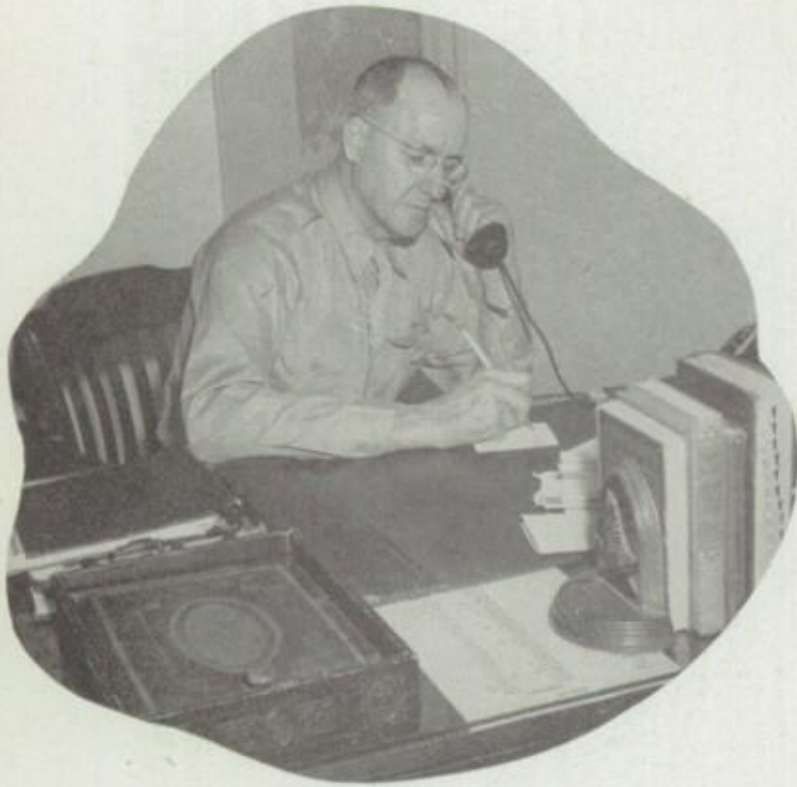

Chairman of the Board

Dr. Bondurant has given nobly of the affection of his heart and the power of his intellect to the students of our school and has received the love and honor of thousands of students that have benefited by this affection. He has realized that the future of our country lies in the enduring peace that comes from the integrity of an educated and trained citizenship, and has given of his best to constructive education.

★ ★ ★ Mr. W. W. Bondurant, M.A., Litt.D.

Col. Bondurant is respected by all for his untiring efforts in the betterment of our school. He is known for his industry and his ingenuity; his vision and his practicality; his shrewd understanding of human nature; his interest in all things both great and small.

★ ★ Col. William T. Bondurant, B.A., Litt.D.

Superintendent

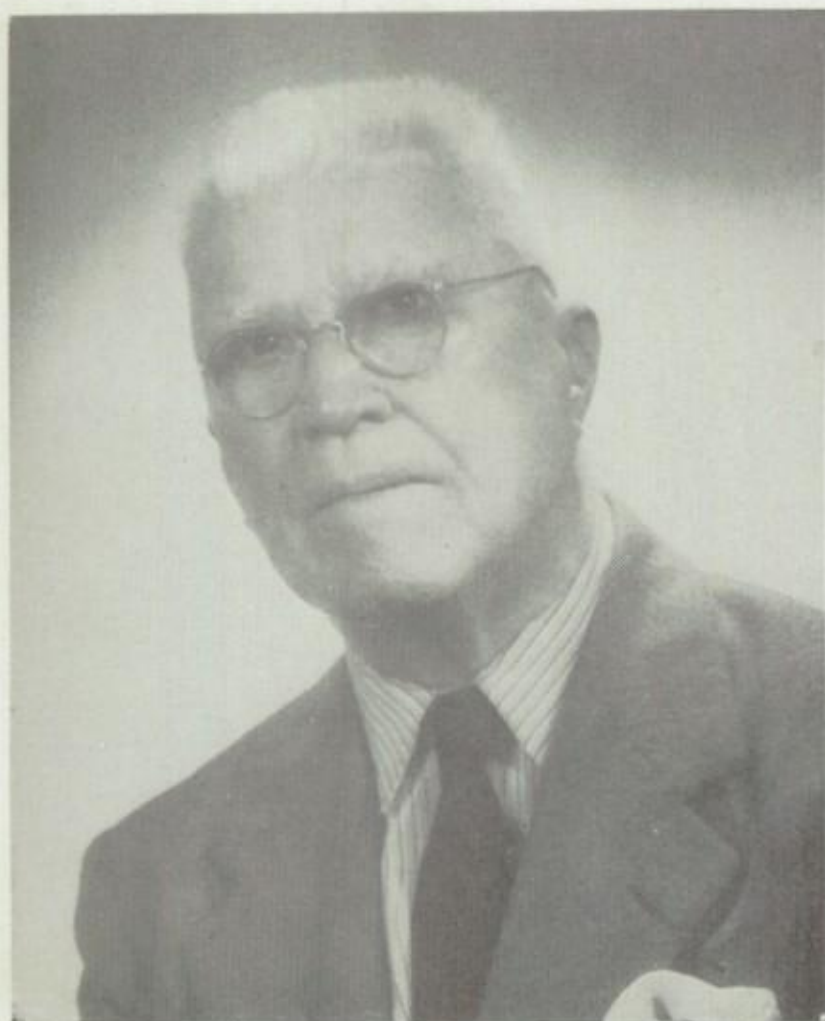

Emerson once said, "The secret of education lies in respecting the pupil."

We, the Cadet Corps, say thank you, Dr. Miller, for that respect, for your untiring efforts to make our daily living more meaningful, and for your sincere guidance in preparing us for the future.

JOHN L. CONLON		Secretary
JAMES B. PERRIGO		Sergeant-at-Arms

Membership in the National Honor Society is the highest award for individual achievement that a cadet can receive. The members of this Society are chosen by the faculty and must stand high in Scholarship, Leadership, Service and Character. The number of members is limited to a maximum of five per cent of the Junior Class and fifteen per cent of the Senior Class. Texas Military Institute is one of the very few private schools to enjoy the distinction of having a charter of this Society.

Previews Of Progress Shown

In the recent past, the student body of T. M. I. was privileged to view a demonstration of some amazing scientific discoveries. The show was entitled Previews of Progress and was presented by the General Motors Corporation.

Many amazing things were demonstrated, among them a process which develops synthetic rubber in sixty seconds. A show which makes things in unbelievably quick times without generating any internal heat was one of the most interesting shows.

With reference to what was shown in the Little T.M.I. Whips 14-12 in Season.

A defeat of the "B" team was enjoyed by the students. The "B" team was defeated by the "A" team in a game which was held on the field of the Texas Military Institute.

ROMANO LEADS BATTALION

Vinton Ferrell

Armistice Day was celebrated this year in commemoration of the thirty-first anniversary of the ending of World War I. The main event of the day was a parade of the various schools.

T.M.I. was represented by a battalion of cadets which was led by Romano.

The battalion was made up of cadets from the various schools and was a very impressive sight.

The parade was held on the field of the Texas Military Institute and was a very successful one.

The cadets of T.M.I. were very proud to represent their school in the parade.

During the Thanksgiving holidays, we hear Joe Zimmerman and Nancy Bivings and John Feagin and Teeta Ansley were seen at the Wheatley football game. Whoopee!

Seen at the movies were Tommy Terry and Margaret Corning, Greg Kuhns and Gladys Bondurant, Tommy Sharp and Lynne Collins, David Christian and Peggy Pitman, and Don Fly and Yolanda Steed.

Among our illustrious alumni seen last week with their dates were Ernest Kistler, Johnny Fortran, and George Cole.

T.M.I. Panther Closes Volume XVIII With Commencement Issue

With the Commencement Issue the Panther has brought to a close Volume XVIII of the 1949-1950 series of the Panther.

Working on the Panther this year has been a lot of fun as well as being educational for both the editors and the reporters. The staff has done its best to publish a paper that the faculty and the student body would approve of and would enjoy reading. As the student body looks forward to writing the stor-

At the first meeting of the Junior Historians the following officers were elected: Tolleson, President; Giesecke, Vice President; and Walter Miller, Secretary.

During the meetings this year, interesting talks have been given on subjects like, "The Lost Adams Mine," "Members of the Alamo," "San Antonio River," "The Medina Dam," and various other legends and facts about Texas. The talks were given by the members of the Junior Historians and were all very commendable.

A collection was taken up by the Historians to help the restoration of the La Bchia Mission at Gonzales. Also the Junior Historians are looking for...

It is needless to say that the experience gained by editing and reporting for the Panther will aid them greatly in whatever field they enter later.

The staff was headed by Lewis Sorley, Managing Editor, and William Heil, Associate Editor. Also on the Board of Editors were Frank Slavik, Feature Editor; Pete Tommy Terry, Sports Editor; The Photographic Editor; Vinton Ferrell, John Feagin, John Giesecke.

After searching for about thirty minutes, I went back to school and found the water valve. I quickly shut off the water, thus averting a disaster (only three boarders drowned).

Since it was now 5:30 A. M., I went to see what had caused the explosion (probably only innocent fun). The first place I went was the rifle range. Here I found Sgt. Bullseye Brownish, who was bawling out the rifle team. He was keeping them in late for almost losing a match with Peabody Girls School. After further investigation and that one of my fel-

Looking Toward the Future

We, the cadets of Texas Military Institute, salute our younger brothers at San Antonio Academy. For, even as we leave our school to assume positions of greater responsibility, so we make way for those of you who follow in our footsteps to take up our rifles and our responsibilities at Texas Military Institute. The future of our school, and in a larger sense, the future of our democracy, lies in your hands. Keep trust with us; guard them well.

We salute you, then, cadets of San Antonio Academy, students of today, leaders of tomorrow.

MOVIES

All boys like movies, and so we were glad when Sergeant H. F. Calloway from T.M.I. came over on Mondays to show us pictures of various types. The different kinds of movies were appreciated by the students. We had pictures such as war invasions, old-time minstrel shows and comic features. Also, Coach Joe Strong showed us movies on rainy days when we could not go outdoors at play periods.

Some of the war movies were entitled: "Dropping of the Atomic Bomb"; "Invasion of Iwo Jima"; and "Bombardment of Germany".

One of the outstanding features was called, "Old-time Minstrel Days". This feature had real sound effects and singing. It was a hit with the boys.

Another military feature was called "Military Etiquette", which showed how a soldier should be during drill and at class. The boys really profited from seeing that movie. "Military Exercises" was another film, which showed how a soldier keeps in condition through exercises and calisthenics.

We hope that the boys next year will enjoy the movies as well as we did this year.

PROGRESS SHOW

During the first month of school, Col. Bondurant broke the news to us that the General Motors "Preview of Progress" show was coming to the Academy sometime soon. We all awaited the event with much eagerness, and our keen anticipation was justly rewarded when we saw the show.

The demonstrators rigged up quite a laboratory on the stage in our study hall. They first showed how synthetic rubber was made in a matter of seconds. The boys were startled when the rubber compound bounced out of the bottle onto the stage. Next they showed how criminals are caught with a powder that glowed under black lights. During this demonstration, three boys were used, and they each received a gold pencil, after a powdered dollar bill was found by means of the lights on one of them. Last of all, the visitors showed us how jet planes operate, by using as a jet a CO₂ cartridge. All boys were thrilled when the miniature plane shot through the air on its guide wire.

—Mickey King.

LIFE AMONG THE BOARDERS

Academy boarders look forward to Saturday, for it is a custom for the boys to go to town each Saturday to see a show and to do some shopping. They come back with an assortment of things bought at the five-and-ten and at the model airplane shop. Comic books, airplane sets and fish bowl aquariums, in order named, have been the three most bought classifications this year.

When special events come to the city, we nearly always see them. The boarders went by special bus to enjoy the rodeo and livestock shows, held in the new coliseum in February.

On holidays there were special treats for us. On Hallowe'en we had an "old-fashion" party with apple dunking and all, in the dormitory. And then at Christmas, the faculty and the boys had a tasty turkey dinner and a Christmas tree, too. On Valentine's we had a special supper before going to a good show at the Uptown as we usually do on Saturday evenings. All in all, the Academy boarders enjoyed a well-rounded entertainment season.

During the past year, the literary societies, the Alamo and the David Crockett, presented fine arguments for their existence. Never were the debates more spirited, and they aroused great interest among the students.

The programs of the two societies were of different types. Every boy had a chance to show that he could speak or take part in writing news notes, telling jokes, or playing musical instruments.

One of the most interesting debates was: "Resolved, that television will take the place of movies in the next fifteen years." Affirmative speakers on this occasion were Bratten and Dill, while the negative was upheld by Evans and Dimaline. Another interesting debate was: "Resolved, that the United States should continue to give military aid to Nationalist China." Speaking for the affirmative, were Chalkley and Stradley. The negative speakers were Flannery and Gilliland.

Comedy touches were interspersed on occasion to relieve the serious nature of the meetings. A special feature was presented by Kent Qualls, impersonating a winsome country lass in gingham dress and bare feet. She had been away for some time and was obviously glad to see some of her boy friends. On another occasion, David Steves attempted to play a borrowed saxophone that behaved in an unruly manner. Never was such an assortment of sounds heard coming out of an instrument. David stuck with his horn, finally mastered it, and played his selection in a creditable way.

“Home Sweet Home”

Room inspection is daily routine among Academy boarders.

Room mates whose rooms are rated the neatest have their names posted on the bulletin board in the study-hall. At the end of the school year, honor pins are awarded the boys, having the most points. Rooms, such as the one pictured above, are typical of the prize winning rooms.

Commencement

Academy boys always look forward to commencement with joyous anticipation. The exercises combine field day features, held in San Pedro Park, and literary events, presented in San Pedro Playhouse. At the time of this writing, it is too early to publish this year's program, but in the belief that many boys will like to have a permanent record of commencement, the highlights of the news story of last year's exercises, as reported in San Antonio Express, are given below:

Military adeptness, coupled with proof of scholastic achievements, marked the 63rd annual commencement exercises of the San Antonio Academy at San Pedro Playhouse Friday. Eighteen scholarship medals were presented to the class leaders and 76 other medals and awards were given to cadets by Col. W. T. Bon-durant, academy president.

Scholarship medals, won by the three top students in each class, were presented to Frank Huntress III, Orvis Maxey and Charles Shields, eighth grade; Creston A. King, Jr., Edward Olmstead and Ronald Katz, seventh grade; Ralph Copeland, Gus Amundsen and Scott Petty, sixth grade; Jay Lee Lammons, Larry Day and Richard Copeland, fifth grade; Robert Browning, Logan Huntress and Edward Peet, fourth grade, and Yale Hicks Ferguson, Alvord Rutherford and Jimmie Morris, third grade.

ROOM COMPETITION

Cadets winning first place in best room competition in their divisions of the dormitories, were John Henry Glasin and Gus Amundsen of Galveston; Dan Estes of Wichita Falls and Guillermo Valdez of Chihuahua, Mexico; Alton Stewart of San Antonio and John Stradley of Dallas, and Arthur and John Santikos of Corpus Christi.

Piano playing awards, offered by Mrs. E. E. Ogilvie, teacher, were presented to Gus Ayres, Eugene Bohne, Tom Chalkley, Ralph Copeland, Richard Copeland, David Christian, Frank Falkstein, Gary Globber, Keith Huber, Bruce Kuemmel, Jay Lammons, Larry McDaniel, Don Nelson, Stanley Pierce, David Reagor, John Savage, John Schaefer and Jim Willerson.

For having had no demerits during the school year, honor pins were presented to Creston King, Andy Smith and Steve Hubberd. Presentation of the no demerit award to King marked the fourth year he has been honored in this manner.

BAND MEDALS

Honor medals and ribbons in band instrument playing were awarded by Jimmie Klein, instructor, to Allan Bobys, Phil Barshop, David Christian, Gordon Cizon, Clayton Conoly, Ralph Copeland, Richard Copeland, David Fetzer, John Flannery, Van Howard, Lantz Hubberd, Steve Hubberd, Logan Huntress, Don Huey, Bobby King, Charles Leake, Perry Lewis, Douglas Muir, Richard Nussle, Glen Passmore, Richard Pent, Jimmie Phillips, Stanley Pierce, Lev Prichard, Kent Qualls, Forrest Robertson, Fred Rose, Larkin Smith, David Steves, Alton Stewart, Jamie Taylor and Bob West.

Cadets of Company Band, commanded by Cadet Capt. David Christian, received individual ribbons for being the best-drilled outfit on the drill field.

Orvis Maxey presented the salutatory address and Frank Huntress III gave the valedictory address.

ORCHESTRA PLAYS

Included on the program of the commencement exercises were Don Nelson, Ralph Copeland, Larry McDaniel, David Christian and Charles Shields, who presented piano selections. The academy 41-piece orchestra played three selections that concluded the program.

Short speeches were given by Yale Ferguson, Robert Browning, Jay Lee Lammons, Ralph Copeland and Creston A. King, representing their several grades.

The Rev. Sam O. Capers gave the invocation.

Rock House

One of the sights of San Pedro Park, opposite the school, is the old Rock House. Legend has it that this was a fort, built as protection against the Indians. More plausible explanation is that it was the smokehouse for a large home that used to stand before it, where the San Pedro Library is now.

The usual school sports were included in the physical training program at the Academy during the session just past. Under the direction of Coach Tout, Academy teams in football and basketball competed with other schools. The high point of the season was reached when the Midget basketball team won the Bexar County championship in its class. This was their second consecutive time to bring home the honors in that contest. Teams were also entered in the South San Antonio Track Meet. The attention of the boys was turned to soft ball during the spring term. The Physical Education classes were again under the direction of Coach Strong. Bombardment, introduced last year by Coach Strong, continued to be a popular schoolyard game.
